MIRACLE '80
Cedarville College
Cedarville Ohio

We dedicate this book to our Business Manager, who has grown with Cedarville College for more than twenty years.

Mr. Ken St. Clair came to Cedarville College in 1958 to look it over at the personal invitation of Dr. Jeremiah. Then in September of 1959 Mr. St. Clair created the Business Department, teaching all classes except shorthand and typing. In its second year, the business department became the second largest department at Cedarville. Two of his early students were Bill Riter, now Chairman of the Department and Barbara Randall, who has completed requirements for her CPA license. In the Fall of 1963, Mr. St. Clair added the responsibility of Business Manager to his teaching duties. It is through his strong influence and excellent financial policies that he has obtained superb reputation for himself and Cedarville College throughout The GARBC.

Ken St. Clair was born on June 1, 1927 in Brighton, Colorado. He has a brother fourteen years older and one two years younger. He was saved at the age of twelve in the Presbyterian Church. As a junior in high school his family moved and he went from a large high school to a small one. The school did not have classes he wanted in Chemistry and Physics so he was forced into bookkeeping. At the end of WWII he joined the Navy and soon after met and married Mrs. St. Clair (1948). Also while in the Navy, he became convinced that the Baptist mode of baptism was correct and thus joined the Baptists. Later, at a Business School in Quincy Illinois, he was asked to join the faculty. Shortly after he did, he was called from the Naval Reserve to active duty and was stationed in California. Finally, in 1956 he was able to finish his B.S. at the University of Illinois and then started his Master's Degree. He accepted a job as an auditor with a CPA firm which prepared him for his work at Cedarville College. In 1963, by attending school during the week and returning home on the weekends, he was able to complete his Master's in Church Accounting. In the past Ken St. Clair has served as President of Midwest Association of Business Administrators for Christian Colleges and Treasurer for the town of Cedarville. He currently teaches part time, is treasurer for two churches and serves on the Kyle Medical Center Committee. At the request of many people, he is working on a seminar for financial management for churches and colleges, truly a sign of his expertise and its effect on Cedarville College.

Thank you Mr. Ken St. Clair for your dedication and your part in making Cedarville the leader it is.

We, like trees grow up in many places. Each one of us starts
small and matures
into a young adult.
But the growing
has not stopped . . .

As young men and women
we move on to college.
Former ties are broken and we move into another environment . . .

Here at Cedarville we find many who, like us, persevere through four years of College. We learn many things and lose some rough edges . . .

Finally we graduate,
departing as raw material,
ready to initiate another phase of life.

AUTUMN

Homecoming

There was a picnic out by the lake that afternoon followed by the soccer game which Cedarville won over Ohio Dominican.

To end the days activities there was a hayride and bonfire at the Clifton 4-H camp. Marlene Eissens, Jan Anderson, Geoff Walker and Debbie Jackson all ministered in song. The students were served carmel apples and delicious apple cider.

1. The winning float for 1979, none other than the Freshman Class.
2. The Mayor of Cedarville and his wife.
3. The Cedarville College Marching Band.
4. Homecoming activities in front of the Student Center.
5. Retired Drum Major marching in Cedarville Parade.
6. Administrators show their spirit in annual Parade.
7. Varsity and J.V. Cheerleaders show their spirit with the Yellow Jacket.
8. Participants running in pre-parade road race.

Homecoming

The morning of October 20 started off a series of activities celebrating Cedarville's annual homecoming. A moving pageant of color and sound drew crowds which lined Main Street from the downtown area to the campus. Floats, made by each class, were brilliant in their color and originality. The Cedarville College Band, Cedarville High School Band, Gammi Chi and their Sesame Street characters, the town mayor, trustees of the college, and many cheerleaders all took part in the parade. The queen and her court were also featured in the parade.

1. 1979 Homecoming queen, Sarah Arthur and escort Dale Shaw.
2. Terri Potter, the Sophomore attendant, with escort Dann Green.
3. Freshman attendant Karen Miller and her escort Sheldon Arndt.
4. Senior attendant Danette Wetzell and escort Randy O'Quinn.
5. Junior attendant BethAnn Payne and her escort Randy Harper.
6. The Alpha Chi Sweethearts: Valerie Dell, Amy Young, and Darlene Repp.

The Imaginary Invalid

The sarcastic humor of the play and its superb actors made it one of the best in the schools history.

Argon, the main character, was a professing hypochondriac. He trusted completely in his physicians and did whatever they prescribed for him — no matter how ridiculous.

Toinette, Argon's servant, was aware of her masters predicament. She decided through several different plots to help him overcome his dependency on doctors. While she was doing this, Toinette was also helping Angilique, Argons daughter, forgoe an unwanted marriage to Thomas Diaforus. Angeliqes real love was Clenante.

During this, Beline, Argons second wife, was trying to talk her husband into sending his daughter to a convent, so that she would be his only heir. Finally, Argon relinquished his dependency on doctors, and became one himself, through a mock ceremony. He then allowed his daughter to marry her true love.

1. Argon informs Toinette that she has been an impudent servant. 2. Toinette looks happy as she reveals her plot to Angelique. 3. Beline, Argon's second wife, cannot hide her contempt for her husband. 4. With glee, Toinette informs Argon of something dreadful. 5. Toinette asks Angelique to trust her and believe everything will work out. 6. Beline reveals some rather disturbing news to Argon. 7. When Argon thought he had lost his daughter Louison, he bent to find her pretending. 8. Argon and Toinette demonstrate their equal ability to be stubborn.

The Imaginary Invalid was written by Jean Baptiste Poquelin Moliere. Myron Youngman directed the play, with the help of Ginny Stone, as Student Director.

The Play was shown on three consecutive nights — November 15-17 — to a capacity crowd in Alford Auditorium. Each night the audience was very responsive, giving a standing ovation to the performers on the closing night.

The Interlude Cast did a tremendous job, acting in three separate scenes. The first was a serenade of a boy to his sweetheart. The second scene was a troop of gypsies that came to entertain Argon. Thirdly, a sarcastic look at the conferral of a degree on a student doctor.

1. The Interlude Cast portraying a band of gypsies.
2. Angelique, played by Kim Turner and her boyfriend played by Doug Phillips.
3. Argon, Gary Moore, and his servant Toinette, portrayed by Faith Linn.
4. Argon looking over his medicine.
5. The Cast at Argons ceremony.
6. Beline, a loving wife, played by Anne Tawney.

1. Dave Merkh, Al Stewart, and opponent focus on the ball. 2. Chuck Bodey, Coach McGillivray, Stefan Pabst, Josias Lima, Jim Barrett, and Dallas Stewart concentrate on a Junior Varsity soccer game. 3. Bobby Shomo and Al Stewart warm up before the game. 4. An opponent surprises Jeff Bowser. 5. "You're kidding!" protests Jim Barrett after a call of no goal. 6. Tim Graham makes another spectacular save. 7. As opponents wallow in a despair, Jeff Bowser jumps for joy.

Soccer

This year's Soccer team, coached by John McGillivray, had another successful year. Their overall record of 8-10-1 came as a result of competing with strong outside competition. The team had a 6-1 record within the NAIA District 22, finishing as runner-up. The team captured first place in the MOC 4-0 record by collecting an exciting come from behind, overtime victory from Walsh. The team had a good season despite injuries to last year's two leading scorers and this year's top two goalkeepers. Next year's team looks promising with 10 starters returning. This year's Junior Varsity team, under the direction of John Ring, had a 1-4-1 record including a 3-1 loss in the annual Alumni game. Several of their starters did not play every game because they were moved up to the Varsity team. Next year Coach McGillivray hopes to have the Varsity and Junior Varsity divided into two separate teams.

Tom Aitken — Captain.

Cross Country

The Cross Country Team enjoyed another rewarding year under the direction of Coach Elvin King. Coach King was pleased at the ease with which they won some of the meets. They missed first place in the Findlay Invitational by only two points. The team's goal was to defend the NCCAA National Championship achieved last year. The Cross Country Team retained their title of Champion by winning the NCCAA Championship at John Bryan and MOC title the previous week.

This year, Coach King organized the first women's cross country team. They ran in the turkey trot and the intramural run. Next year's team is expected to compete against other colleges.

Jan Callan, Sue Matzuras and Carol Morgan struggle for control of the ball.

Field Hockey

The Field Hockey Team finished with a record of 2-7-1, an improvement over last year's record. According to Coach Becky Kuhn, the team built on the foundation laid last year and improved immensely as a result of their willingness to work hard. The goal of the team was "total release performance." This goal of giving 100% at all times was demonstrated by the continuous improvement in the team. Their last game was their best performance because they never gave up, even in the 4-1 loss to a strong Ashland College team. If this attitude continues next year, the team will exhibit even greater development.

Volleyball

The Volleyball Team was once again coached by Dr. June Kearney, finishing the season with an impressive conference record of 14-5 and a good overall record of 22-15. The team produced exciting play as indicated by spectator enthusiasm. One of the most exciting and rewarding moments was winning the OASW Satellite-West Tournament held at Cedarville College.

Cedar County Fair

October 5 was a time to get to know each other better. Student Activities, under the direction of Myron Youngman, sponsored the Cedar County Fair. The fair began with an outdoor barbecue. The different clubs and student organizations ran game booths in an attempt to better acquaint the student body with the activities and purposes of each group. Many professors participated as targets of games or as workers at concession stands. Students competed for points at the different booths. The two P.A.'s and their units who collected the highest number of points by the end of the fair were treated to a dinner at Jed's.

1. The Dean of Men is ready to meet his fate at the dunking game. 2. Mark Skyles and Bob Smith demonstrate their skill at chess. 3. Dean Rickard prepares to take the plunge. 4. Booths begin to go up for the fair. 5. Everyone enjoys a paddle boat contest — unless they get wet. 6. Students could "settle their differences" at the MENC game. 7. Jan Anderson and Marla Eissens provide musical entertainment at the fair.

Halloween

Many Cedarville College students used their imaginations to dress up for Halloween. Several Halloween parties were held and enjoyed on the campus.

1. Steve Deickert and Donna Supplee concentrate on their job of barbecuing spare ribs. 2. Brian Miller and an unidentifiable "Miss" enjoy a chat together. 3. The skilled students at the Cedar County Fair could do two things at once — watch and eat. 4. Mearl Gibson and Jerry Lantz "chow down." 5. The Printy Hall girls pose unabashed of their appearance. 6. Halloween Party at Maddox dorm. 7. Are these two really what they claim to be? 8. Some Cedarville College students enjoy Halloween — in disguise, of course.

People

1. An open Gym Night turns out to be a time of fun and relaxation for all. 2. Trudy Tangblade and Lisa Ramsey perform a skit for the Alpha Chi Banquet. 3. Eating dinner outside is an occasional event at Cedarville. 4. Two "living dolls" enjoy the Homecoming Parade. 5. They always do this when girls walk by! 6. Three loyal fans show their support for their team. 7. The bleachers are packed again for another exciting basketball game.

Friends

When students come to school, they do not have too many friends there; they have left all of their friends at home. During the first weeks there are many names to figure out; but soon names are remembered and friendships become established. For the majority, old acquaintances are renewed and new friends are also accumulated.

1. Betty Lewis and Letty Walker exchange some news while changing classes. 2. A conference among friends: Tim Hoganson, Fritz Huber, and Ellen Jenson. 3. Of course, some find a special friend. 4. "With friends like you, who needs enemies?" 5. It seems Roger Michel has some "friends" too. 6. Kim Turner subtly informs Cindy Jacobs her phone call stinks.

Christmas 1979

As Fall quarter comes to an end, students prepare for the Christmas Holidays. A flurry of activity takes place as the dorm rooms are polished and decorated for the co-ed open houses. The pressures of finals are lessened as the college considers this joyous event.

1. The sing-along was a special time of fellowship for those in attendance.

2. During open house, roommates Ruth Hurlburt and Linda Grafton prepare a feast for their guests.

3. Do you suppose Santa is headed for Lawlor?

4. The Printy Hall girls know what to do at their Christmas party.

5. Christal Marihugh and Jeff Bartling enjoy a private joke.

6. Everyone was lined up, waiting for the Christmas visitors.

7. The thought of Christmas brings smiles to the faces of Patterson girls.

8. The thought of being number one brings smiles to the faces of the members of Carr Four.

Winter Friends

In the routine of a cold winter's day at Cedarville College the students can look forward to a great lunch. Students enjoy the time of fellowship around the table; many are the hours spent there. Truly it is something for which to be thankful as a break from the studies in order to laugh and have a fun time with those friends with whom we live, laugh and cry. Friends have shared many thoughts and problems around the good old lunch table. Proverbs 17:17 states that "a friend loveth at all times". The Lord has richly blessed the student body with blessed friendships.

1. Tammy King takes student I.D. numbers. 2. Kenny Gaines enjoys his tomato soup. 3. Joni Webber and Ray Miller — "Get every drop!" 4. Carl Ruby is having another cup of coffee, as part of his daily routine. 5. Clayton Beck and Angela Bowers are sharing an intense conversation. 6. Eat every bite, Valerie Dell. 7. Oh those lovely lunch lines! 8. Hey! Don't take my food. 9. Randy Wilcox and Don Pippin get ready to take their seats. 10. Cheryl Coates thinks that was just great. 11. Vinnie Jaquery and Josias enjoy a time of fellowship. 12. Several turn out for an early morning breakfast at the 'ville.

Studying

The primary purpose of most students in college is to get a degree. Unfortunately for most, that means studying. For some, studying starts with finals, but the majority start at the beginning of each quarter. There are a variety of places and styles of studying, but hopefully, they get the job done.

1. Mary Wallace utilizes the snack shop for her study. 2. Research for term papers takes special knowledge of the library. 3. Studying by the lake attracts this student. 4. Kerry Weaver finds his room the most conducive place for study. 5. The library gets pretty crowded around finals week. 6. Matt Vincent keeps his study area neat. 7. Dan Cawood puts in an extra five minutes before his final.

All School Birthday Party

The All School Birthday Party was a time of fun and relaxation for all who attended. The idea of the Party was to celebrate everyone's birthday. Many games and activities were planned by Dana Treese. Among these activities were three legged races, mattress races, and sliding boards. The evening was further heightened by showing college level flicks such as Bugs Bunny, Little Rascals, and Three Stooges.

1. They are enjoying a skateboard built for six. 2. "Mmm, Mmm! Boy this ice cream and cake tastes good." 3. This is not a very comfortable way to sleep! 4. Practice swing-thoses legs together.

Family Feud

The Junior Class organized and directed the Family Feud, a spin off of the T.V. game show by the same name. The show was hosted by John Hart and Randy Harper, with the "Families" consisting of Faculty/Staff, Seniors/Juniors and Sophomores/Freshmen. Two rounds were played in each game, then the winners had a play-off for the grand prize. An all expense paid trip to Kings Island was awarded to the victorious Sophomore/Freshman family.

1. They are taking a Young's commercial break between the rounds. 2. Mrs. Dixon and Dr. Spencer are settling their differences. 3. The Snortnippers try to cheer one another on. 4. The Faculty really takes this game seriously. 5. As the tension builds the Staff Family finds it hard to control themselves. 6. Here is a serious moment (the only one) provided by the underclassman team.

1. Dee Wiseman and Julie Jones try to stop Coach Schlappi in the Alumni game.
2. Valerie Whisler waits for a possible missed free-throw. 3. Laurie Butler begins moving for the tip from her sister Vicki. 4. Coach Schlappi, Lori Duffield, and Sue Kulp pause during a time out. 5. Diane Lichtensteiger struggles with two basketballs. 6. Vicki Butler and Lori Duffield play a tight defense. 7. Diane Lichtensteiger passes over the opponent. 8. The rebound is controlled by Deb Fakan. 9. Sue Kulp goes up for a jump shot.

Women's Basketball

The Women's Basketball team had a moderately successful year as they went 5-1 in the conference and 13-14 overall. The team tied for fifth in the State Division III Tournament. This year was the second for their coach, Sandy Schlappi.

Men's Basketball

Cedarville's Basketball Team had their most successful year since the 1964-1965 season as they tied the most wins record with 21 wins and 9 losses. Coach Don Callan was chosen as Coach of the Year and Cedarville was noted for drawing the largest crowds in the MOC and NAIA District. The team also was ranked eighth nationally in scoring with over 87 points per game.

A pass from mid-air is made by Ken Massie.

The six varsity and five junior varsity cheerleaders fill an important role in Cedarville College's athletic program. During the season the cheerleaders are responsible for organizing the Teammate program (which provides a secret prayer partner for all school athletes), and for conducting pep rallies and school spirit boosters. Their off-campus activities include presenting cheerleading clinics in area schools, judging cheerleader try-outs and sponsoring a one week cheerleading camp for Christian high schools during the summer.

Wrestling

The Wrestling Team had a rough year as they went 1-7. Coach John Battaglia attributes the record to the inexperience of the team. Every member of the team was a first year college wrestler; but says Coach Battaglia, the team has a good base to build upon next year.

AT LEFT

The winning Carr/Palmer flag football team which went to the college football Hall of Fame. Other winners were: 3-man basketball, Mike Aitken, Dave Short, Mike Howard; 5-man basketball, Off-Campus; Cross Country Run, Julie Hutchins; and Softball, Lawlor.

Cedarville College organizes several tournaments for the college personnel. This year they had flag football, three man and five man basketball for men and five man basketball for women. A Cross Country Run, Softball, Coed Volleyball, and Women's Volleyball were also played. An All-Star softball team was taken to the Miami University Tournament.

1. Several distance runs were sponsored by Cedarville. 2. Co-ed Softball provided relaxation for most participants. 3. Sometimes the games attracted a few spectators. 4. The girls' basketball resembled football at times. 5. Flag football assumed the same challenges as interscholastic football. 6. Cedarville's women brought their unique style to the games. 7. Of course, to let the boys play, the girls had to use slow-pitch rules. 8. Because the girls agreed to slow-pitch, men like he could hit the ball. 9. Basketball games scheduled during the winter months provided escape from studies. 10. It looks like the boys are taking the game seriously.

Student Rally

A rally organized by Valde Garcia, who is a member of ROTC, demonstrated Cedarville's concern over the growing problems in Iran. Many students came out to give their support and show their interest in this serious situation facing our country.

1. Marnie Vail adds interest to the rally by bringing her horse with her. 2. Cedarville flag wavers came out to give their support. 3. Cedarville students lend vocal support. 4. AX Talent Night

The Alpha Chi Talent Night featured many of our gifted students. Each year, AX holds auditions and selects those with excellent pieces and puts them together to form a program. Mr. and Mrs. Wes Baker hosted the event which included songs and skits. The theme for the 1980 show was LOVE. The songs and skits ranged from dreamers wishing for love to lost loves to loves for one's parents. The show was held for two nights. Both nights proved to be a great success.

1. Mr. Baker in keeping with the theme, presents some flowers to his wife. 2. John Hart and John Duff, second place winners, did a skit called "My Sonny Lies Over the Ocean". 3. Jill Southward, first place winner, did a humorous skit on "Cinderella". 4. These men provided extra entertainment. 5. The group "First Love" sang two love songs. 6. Patty Cornell awaits the introduction to her selection. 7. Deborah Darling sings about the love of Christ. 8. Laura Smith takes a big risk at the hands of Steve Etnier. 9. God, as our Savior and Creator, was the theme of New Covenants' number. 10. Steve Strock and Steve Keller provide a story in music, that of a Printy girl and a Lawlor guy meeting for the first time and falling in love. 11. Stacy Towle sings of a different kind of love. 12. Sue Parvin and Shirley Clark sing a bittersweet love song.

A Night With Norman

The Norman Tabernacle Choir is a unique group of highly versatile and talented students. The group this year did a variety of skits and musical numbers ranging from "The Looney Bin" to "The New and Improved Sound of Music" and closed with their spectacular slide presentation "You're in the Way". NTC's leader was of course Norman himself (Alias Craig Miller) and the choir consisted of: Becky Rupe, Ginny and Jannell Decker, Dana Treese, Lisa Ramsey, Stacey Towle, Kris Karsian, Beth Miller, Brenda McBride, Diane DeNicola, Lorraine Merkh, Dan Green, Dave Cox, Dave Carr, Doug Phillips, Steve Swayze, John Duff, Steve Keller, Ron Hobar, and Gary Moore. NTC's concert was held on April 12 in Alford. All the proceeds went to ABWE missionaries, graduates of Cedarville College working in Austin, Texas. These missionaries, Bruce and Bev McDonald and Sam and Judy Olsen, are planting churches in that area.

1. Dan Green sits admiring Stacey Towle's star. 2. Ron Hobar and Dave Carr are leading cheers. 3. Dan Green is "freshened" by his admirers. 4. Craig Miller and Ginny Decker perform the "Looney Bin". 5. Their professors wish they were given the same attention. 6. John Duff enjoys a temporary position of superiority. 7. Lisa Ramsey is "Mama" to her single missionary girls. 8. Jannell Decker is proud of her kids in "The New and Improved Sound of Music". 9. Norman leads one of the more serious songs: "Hey Diddle Diddle".

SPRING

1. Curt Berger watches an ongoing match with interest. 2. Coach Murray Murdoch writes another win for his team. 3. Donnie Rawlings keeps his eye on the ball while serving. 4. Randy Wilson stretches for his serve. 5. Doug Wiseman concentrates on slicing his serve. 6. John Delancey winds up for another powerful serve. 7. Making it look easy, Ron Rost gracefully returns another volley. 8. As Dale Schaeferle returns to the court, he muses, "How did I do that?"

Tennis

The Men's Tennis Team again posted a winning season. Dr. Murray Murdoch coached his team to an 18-2 record. The team also won the MOC and NAIA District 22 tournaments for the ninth consecutive year and for the twelfth time of the last thirteen.

Tennis

The Women's Tennis Team, coached by Dr. Pam Diehl, improved greatly over last year. The team as a whole improved as well as each individual member. Coach Diehl notes that their spiritual growth increased their enjoyment of the season. Four positions qualified for the state tourney but were eliminated early when they met the seeded players.

Golf

Cedarville College's golf team is coached by Dr. Allen Monroe. Even though the team's score was lower than previous years, the team ended with a 4-8 record. According to Dr. Monroe, this is the first year the team had three men in the 70's, but the competition was much stronger, and thus the record.

The Sound Of Music

The Village Players and MENC collaborated in an outstanding production of "The Sound of Music" on May 8, 9, and 10. Involving a cast of over seventy-five members, the play was directed by Mr. Rebecca Baker with Mike Brumbaugh serving as assistant director and Charles Pagnard serving as orchestra director. The performance centered upon the captivating story of the tender romance between the spirited Maria Rainer and the overwhelming Captain Von Trapp. The entire cast is to be commended for its ability to recreate the tense, conflicting emotions of an Austria affected by the growing threat of Nazi takeover.

1. Maria Rainer (Cindy Ulmer) is the new nanny for the Von Trapp children. 2. Maria and Captain (Phil Stoner) share an intimate moment in song. 3. The Von Trapp children must stand at attention for inspection by their father. 4. Elsa, played by Trudy Tangblade, and Max, played by Jon Harvey bring a lighter side to the play. 5. Liesl (Deb Gilbert) and Rolf (Cal Clark) are alone at last. 6. The children wish for Maria to return. 7. An angry Liesl knows that her friendship is over with Rolf. 8. The Captain takes command of the situation. 9. Captain Von Trapp and his "wife to be". 10. The party guests of the Von Trapps are waiting to be served dinner. 11. Frau Schmidt (Stacy Towle), and Franz (Ken Andrus), are welcoming the party guests.

May 2 and 3 was the annual Cedar Weekend. The activities included a chapel recognition of students who have excelled academically, a cedar tree planting, sporting events such as a road rally, an obstacle course, baseball games, tennis and track meets, and an outdoor picnic. The special weekend ended with a Chorale Concert on Saturday evening. Many visitors came to enjoy the festivities.

1. Eve Shirk and Tammy Smiley are content to let Mark Johnson and Barry Tindall do all the work.

2. The Cedarville track team came in third in NCAA competition.

3. The starving like to stick together.

4. The ice cold watermelon ranks high as the best part of the day.

5. Some prefer paddle boats as a means of transportation.

6. Betty Bertschinger applies a little tender loving care to Dale Shaw.

7. Mark Bubell wins the race.

8. Some enjoy the life of leisure . . .

10. The track officials are absorbed in their work.

11. The canoe race is on!

12. Bonnie Webber and Carol Supplee tackle their music with determination.

13. All eyes are riveted toward "Mr. D".

Junior-Senior Banquet

The Junior-Senior Banquet is a dinner provided by the Junior Class for the Senior Class. The banquet consists of a delicious meal followed by a tribute to the Seniors and musical entertainment. This year the JS was located at the Sheraton Inn in Columbus, Ohio.

1. The entertainment was provided by Ellen Roweton, who sang a variety of gospel songs. 2. Steve Stange and Diane Morgan enjoy a quiet conversation before the Banquet begins. 3. Mrs. Baker, Stacy Towle, and Roger Michel formed a Reader's Theatre to accompany a slide presentation. 4. The Senior Class Advisor, Mr. Baker, gives a few comments. 5. Randy Harper, the Junior Class President, presided over the banquet. 6. Dave Merkh and Carol Sue Cox seem to enjoy each other's company. 7. The onion soup served here started an excellent meal. 8. Linda Grafton and Mark Kirby converse with a friend during the dinner.

Senior Chapel

The Seniors presented a chapel service as a way of saying goodbye to the Cedarville College student body. Individual members of the class spoke about their personal, spiritual development during their college years. The Seniors expressed their gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Baker, class advisors, and to Craig Colas, Class President.

Pat Bates Day

On May 8, Pat Bates was recognized for her six years as Cedarville's outstanding Dean of Women. "Pat Bates Day" was initiated by Alpha Delta Omega, a woman's society, with many other Cedarville girls joining in the tribute. Activities honoring Dean Bates throughout the day included a special recognition in chapel.

1. Keith Willhite thanks Craig Colas for his four year leadership as Class President. 2. Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. Howell, Ma Printy and Pat enjoy the attention. 3. Pat Bates is surrounded by her admirers. 4. These Senior class members wait for their turns to speak. 5. Senior Chapel included special music from ... the Seniors! 6. Pat's roommate, Faith Whitelaw, and Tammy Kearbey enjoy the banquet held for Pat in Englewood, Ohio. 7. As a duet, Steve Swayze and Roger Michel contribute to the program. 8. "We love you, Pat Bates." 9. In a touch of aristocracy, Chauffeur Mark Warren escorts Pat from her limosine.

Graduation

Graduation is the highlight of the Cedarville year. This culmination of four years of dedication is celebrated with a large ceremony in the James T. Jeremiah Chapel.

1. Everything must be just right, so the mortarboard is placed very carefully. 2. Even the men adjust each other's hoods for this ceremony. 3. Marnie Vail relaxes a bit before she dons her cap. 4. Every girl gives and receives some adjustment before heading toward the chapel. 5. A list of graduates is provided for each parent and visitor. 6. Finally, the procession begins as the graduated march to the chapel. 7. Floyd Stanfill checks his watch while waiting to lead the graduates to their seats.

Graduation

President Dixon gives a charge to the graduates, the diplomas are awarded and some awards are presented to outstanding members of the Senior Class. Smiles beam and tears flow, but overall prevails a feeling of relief.

1. Before the graduates are seated, the faculty file in to take their places on the platform. 2. Barb Adams accepts her award from Dr. Johnson. 3. Congratulations are in order after the ceremony. 4. Lee Randall is all smiles as Dr. Dixon gives him his diploma. 5. The graduates listen intently as their class members receive their awards. 6. Parents glow with pride toward their graduated daughter. 7. Ginny Decker, Karen Sewell, and Kim Hosack pose for a picture in their caps and gowns. 8. Shawn Taylor receives praise for her accomplishments.
